arrived at, savings of around $19,400 that was no longer utilized, and that those samples would be done through the central office here or laboratory at Lincoln. So that is what the two amendments do. One will increase that interest rate to what seems like a more reasonable rate in light of today's conditions and, secondly, it would permit a reduction of expenditure of about $19,000 which by statute is provided to have the lab there.
